Venue: ESCI / Cochin
INTRODUCTION:

Contract management is the process of generating, executing, and monitoring contracts. This can include negotiating terms, drafting documents, and ensuring that both parties meet their obligations. Contract Management has the vital components in any Project and needs adequate attention. Because of the involvement of several stakeholders, different types of contracts and conditions have made this task more complex. The projects are being subjected to cost and time overruns because of disputes arising and continuous issues in the projects. Irrespective of the type of project, contracts happen to be the main of all the relationships that an organization develops with important stakeholders like partners, suppliers, customers etc. Even though, Contracts are the most central aspect in organization's functioning, they are the neglected element of the Procurement Cycle and hence lead to delays, disputes and disagreements.

Courts are flooded with cases and it is taking a long time to settle these disputes. Disputes lead to enormous loss to the huge as well as the clients. In this scenario, it is necessary to minimize, understand and resolve these disputes. Proper Contract Documentation and Contract Management reduce the load of claims.

World Bank Conditions, FIDIC and other forms of Contracts have been levying penalties for delay in completion and paying Bonus for early completions. Project Management is always taking all steps for effective Contract Management. The old forms of contracts are getting replaced with modern formats such as Build Own Transfer Family Contracts, Turnkey Contracts, EPC Contracts, Build and Design etc. The practicing professionals shall be familiar with the new mechanisms / techniques, so as to manage projects in the present scenario.

A Tender is an offer or invitation to bid for a project or to accept a formal offer. Tenders are usually conducted in four stages: Prequalification; the issue of tender documents; receipt and review of tenders; award of contract. E-tendering simply consists of procurement and tendering methods and processes that have been moved to an online / the process of sending and receiving bid tenders using online procurement platforms.

Arbitration is a process of resolving disputes between two or more parties. It is an alternative to traditional litigation, where a judge or jury decides the outcome of a case. In arbitration, the parties agree to have their dispute decided by an impartial third party, called an arbitrator. Arbitration is often used in contract management to resolve disputes.
